User Stories

Index of user story matches with index with high level goals. Number in parenthesis are story point values.

(still need to decompose user stories into tasks)

1. As an artist, I want to be able to upload art to display my work and organize my work with tags, so that viewers can find specific works they like. (9)

2. As a collector/potential customer/viewer, I want to be able to browse art categories that I am interested without it being cluttered with other art categories that I'm not interested in. (3)

3. As an artist, I want to keep track of contacts and leads so that I can keep in touch with potential customers. (4)

4. As an artist, I want to be able to see what types of art the contacts of the gallery are interested in (what types of art is viewed the most) (4)

5. As a collector, I want to be able to follow the artists I like, so that I can be updated whenever they create new art. (3)

6. As an artist, I want to be able to have an easy way to access a todo list and reminders, it would be great to have everything bundled into one! (2)

Product Backlog

(list of goals and user stories that did not make it into release… is this empty to start?)

1. As a collector I want to be able to message artist to show interest in their art
